EARTH TO EARTH.

FUNERAL OF REV. FREDERICK L. LE MOSEY.

The remains of Rev. Frederick L. Le Mosey, who was kicked by a horse in a runaway accident near Forest, Bedford county, Sunday, and died that night from the effects of the blow, arrived in the city via the Norfolk and Western railroad at 10 o'clock yesterday morning. They were met at the depot by a delegation from the Brotherhood of St. Andrew and conveyed to St. Luke's P. E. Church, where a large number of sorrowing friends had gathered.

The funeral services were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Dr. W. A. Barr, assisted by Rev. Dr. B. D. Tucker, of St. Paul's Church, and Rev. Dr. C. E. Grammer, of Christ Church. The following clergymen of the P. E. Church acted as pall-bearers: Rev. C. E. Woodson, Rev. H. H. Jones, Rev. A. C. Thomson, Rev. John H. Dickinson, Rev. Z. S. Farland, Rev. R. S. Coupland and Rev. Mr. Carpenter.

The interment was in Elmwood, a large number of people following the remains to their last resting place. The floral offerings were profuse.

Rev. Le Mosey was held in high esteem by all of our people, regardless of denominational lines, who had the pleasure of knowing him. Expressions of sorrow for his untimely death and sympathy for his widow and only child were heard on every hand yesterday.

FUNERAL OF MRS. BAGE.

The funeral of Mrs. Bettie Bage took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the Huntersville M. E. Church. The solemn services were conducted by Rev. Daniel T. Merritt, pastor of the church.

The pall-bearers were as follows: Messrs. R. T. Capps, T. A. Miltner, Charles Kegebein, Jr., H. P. Guy, G. H. Mills, H. B. Reynolds, T. J. Blair and O. A. Olrish.

THE CASE OF THE DOG.

CONDEMNED BRUTE'S FATE TO BE DECIDED TO-DAY.

The little dog that bit Mr. Michael Cashin a few days ago and who was condemned to death by Police Justice Taylor, was yesterday removed from the police station, where he has been kept pending an appeal, to the jail. Official papers for the condemned brute's removal were made out the same as if the prisoner had been human. Chief Kizer had the dog in custody, and the brute was so noisy Mr. Kizer asked that he be removed.

The case is perhaps unparalleled in the courts of the country. When Justice Taylor imposed the death sentence on the canine for biting the finger of Mr. Cashin, the dog's owner, Mrs. Winn, noted an appeal from the Justice's decision. In Virginia a dog must be listed as personal property valued at $10 in order to take an appeal, and a bond must be furnished. Under the law the condemned dog is valueless because he is not listed, and the matter is perplexing and humorous at the same time.

The owner of the dog promised to export him if he were released, and to-day Justice Taylor will consider the matter. This is the brute's first offense, and he may be given a chance for his life. In looking up the law, an eminent local jurist found that a witty English justice once declared that every canine was entitled to a snap and a bite, and this particular canine got all that was coming to him when he began chawing on Mr. Cashin's finger. The fate of the dog will be decided by Justice Taylor to-day. Mr. Edward W. Wolcott represents Mrs. Winn, the owner of the dog, and is making a hard fight to save the life of the erring canine.

FOOTBALL TO-DAY.

NORFOLK HIGH SCHOOL TEAM TO PLAY IN HAMPTON.

It is hoped that every person that can will go over. The line up is as follows: Davis, left end; Taylor, left tackle; Hardy, left guard; Burton, center; Cresap, right guard; Black, right tackle; R. Bradford, right end; Waters, quarter back; Webb, left half back; Hodgson, right half back; Dodson, full back; substitutes, White and C. Bradford.

MANY YACHTS HERE.

The Electric Wonder "Roamer," Came in Yesterday.

Description of the Marvelous Vessel—The Trim Gasoline "Florence" Also Arrives, Besides Other Yachts Famous in the Maritime World.

Mr. H. C. Roome, an old yachtsman, and for many years a member of the Jersey City Yacht Club and the New York Yacht Club, is at present here in his cruising yacht "Roamer," en route to the Bahamas. Mr. Roome is an electrical engineer of much experience, and is an ardent devotee to water sports.

A couple of years ago he made a most remarkable cruise in his small gasoline launch "Waikiki" from New York down the coast by the inside route to the Gulf of Mexico, and thence up the Mississippi to the Lakes, and through the St. Lawrence and various canals to New York, the total distance covered being 8,200 miles. Shortly afterwards he conceived the idea of building a larger boat, and the "Roamer" is the result. She was constructed by the New York Yacht, Launch and Engine Company, and was recently launched.

The new yacht is 70 feet over all, 63 feet water line; 12 feet breadth, and 3 feet 8 inches draft. She has a plumb stem, the usual yacht counter, a good foreboard amidships, and rather high bows, being intended for a moderate amount of sea cruising. The cabin house is 53 feet long, the pilot house occupying seven feet of length, very comfortably fitted up with all conveniences for navigation.

The main saloon is 17 feet long, with both sides of glass. It has full headroom and is handsomely finished in mahogany, with a large folding bed and a fixed secretary. Instead of sofas, large couches are used, these being movable at will, as is the table. By means of heavy curtains the room can be divided into three separate portions. A great many minor fittings serve to make it not only comfortable, but luxurious as a home for weeks at a time. The bathroom is of good size and fully fitted up. It is on the port side of the passage leading aft.

The after part of the house is the engine room, pantry and galley in one. The motor is a Globe, of 35 h. p. It is fitted with a special sparking dynamo and storage battery for emergency use. There are thirty-five electric lights throughout the yacht and a searchlight of 2,000 candle power on the pilot house. The galley is in the after end of the house, of a new pattern being used. The kerosene is stored in a galvanized iron kitchen boiler of twenty-eight gallons capacity, placed under the galley floor and completely out of the way. In addition to gasoline and electricity, the yacht carries two masts, hinged to the cabin roof and rigged with leg-o-mutton sails. She also carries two 14-foot boats, one fitted with a gasoline motor of 3 h. p.

Mr. and Mrs. Roome, accompanied by their two sons, recently left New York and are now working their way down the coast, using the inland route as far as possible, to Cape Florida, where they will cross the Bahamas and spend part of the winter there and on the Cuban coast. Later on they may visit the Gulf cities, but they will return to New York by spring. The yacht will then be swung on to the decks of an ocean freighter and taken to some English or German port and her owners will spend the summer in a long cruise in Danish, Swedish and Norwegian waters, returning home by steamer in the fall. The plan now is to put in two seasons on the inland waters of Northern Europe, the light draft of the yacht permitting her to pass through all the canals.

ANOTHER TRIM YACHT.

The "Florence," a trim little yacht, operated by gasoline, arrived here yesterday with her owner, Mr. Frank L. Budlong, of Providence, aboard, besides a crew of three. The "Florence" was purchased by Mr. Budlong at Jacksonville last year at a cost of $1,000, and is a wonder of her class. She can make eight knots an hour, and enough gasoline can be stored in her tank forward to drive her 200 to 300 miles. She took on a supply of gasoline here and will sail to-day for the North Carolina Sounds, where the party will shoot ducks. From the Sounds the "Florence" will go to Charleston, where more gasoline will be taken aboard, and then the little boat will proceed to Key West, where the winter will be spent. The "Florence" came here from Providence via the numerous canals, and experienced some rough weather. The arrangements for the comfort of those aboard is complete and every inch of space is utilized. Mr. Budlong stated to a Virginian-Pilot reporter that he traveled both day and night, but emphasized the remark that he preferred traveling by day-light.

SOME MORE, TOO.

The handsome steam yacht Katterwan, owned by Mr. John Price Wetherell, a wealthy resident of Philadelphia, is anchored in the harbor. He and a party of friends are aboard and are bound to James river, where Mr. Wetherell has a fine country place and where he and his guests will spend some time duck shooting.

Mr. B. F. Keith's yacht, the Courier, was in port yesterday on her way South for the winter. Mr. Keith is the originator of the "continuous" vaudeville performances and is the proprietor of palatial theatres in New York, Philadelphia, Boston and Providence.

WATT, RETTEW & CLAY.

Men's 50c. White Shirts, at 39c.

The same that "sold like hot cakes" a week or so ago. What we said of them then we say again to-day:—
Good—or they wouldn't be here.

Low Priced—or we wouldn't tell about them.

Unlaundered—reinforced front and back—flat felled seams—union linen bosoms—split-cushion neck-bands.

All sizes—39c., instead of 50c.

An admirable innovation for men is the Munsing Union Suit, shirt and drawers in one.

The satisfaction of being well dressed is never realized until underwear is worn that fits the form like a glove, yielding readily to every motion of the body yet always remaining in place.

The Munsing Union Suit for men is the perfection of comfort. There is no shirt to roll up and there are no drawers to slip down. There is no bunching where neat fitting clothing is most desirable.
